

Community Health and Advocacy Talks

Engaging a Community in the Social Determinants of Health

Public Health Approaches to Diabetes Prevention
and Management:
What's Happening in Minneapolis

Lara Pratt, MPH
Minneapolis Health Department

Tuesday, April 11, 2017

You are invited!

CHAT is a monthly series of talks around matters that are important in health and healthcare delivery.

These talks are held in the evenings of the second Tuesday of every month.

These talks are for you if you are concerned about the Social Determinants of Health.

At –

UROC
(Urban Research and Outreach Center)
2001 North Plymouth Avenue
Minneapolis, MN 55411

Program-

5.30- 6 pm – Dinner; meet and greet
6 – 7 pm – Talk
7-7.30 pm - Networking

RSVP recommended (not required) to chatmpls@gmail.com

If you want to be on the listserv for future talks send an email to the above address

Brought to you by

University of Minnesota North Memorial Family Medicine Residency Program and Family Medicine Interest Group